

Eileen Z Taylor, PhD, CPA, CFE
Professor of Accounting
Poole College of Management

As a full professor, I'd like to spend more time contributing to the vision of NC State, and working on innovative solutions to issues concerning faculty at our institution. I have experience working across campus with a diverse group of people.

I am currently a professor in accounting, whose research focuses on corporate governance, including ethics, whistleblowing, and information systems security. I have served as the chair of the common reading selection committee, chair of the recruiting diverse faculty committee, and chair of the MBA curriculum committee. I am also an NC State mediator. I primarily teach graduate courses in critical thinking, ethics, accounting, and IT audit.
