

Intae Yoon, PhD, MSW
Associate Professor
School of Social Work
College of Humanities & Social Sciences

I firmly believe in a strong shared governance. Because faculty and administrators communicate and collaborate through the system to fully mobilize our collective intelligence, it is a great tool for us to achieve our institutional mission. I do believe each faculty senator should represent the voice of his/her/their colleagues. It is the epitome of our democracy in academia. His research interests include asset-building for low- and moderate-income families, economic justice, and social work education.